My name is Ciro Lo Pinto. I presently serve as the Second Vice - President of the American Indian Alaska Native Employees Association. I previously served as the Eastern Regional Representative to AIANEA for nine years. I am also a member of the AIANEA Drum Group. I have served the NRCS for 24 years in New Jersey, New York and I am presently serving in Pennsylvania. I am a Soil Conservationist, located in the Wellsboro Field Office. I have been involved in the Civil Rights and EEO Programs for most of my career.

My mom is part Hopi, and it is through her cultural background that I gained my desire to be involved with and serve the organization. My strong sense of justice and my love of community drive me to volunteer my services to my fellow employees. My personal interests are in vegetable farming, carving Hopi Kachina dolls and playing music and singing. I still play three of the most annoying musical instruments known to mankind...accordion, banjo and bagpipes. I also play the less annoying guitar and autoharp. Of course I don't play them all at the same time, if so then it's strictly against my chiropractor's recommendations.
